Drawings

The drawings were received on 04 November 2003. These drawings are approved.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-4, 6-9, 11-20, 22, and 25-29 are allowed in view of the prior art.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

As to claims 2, 6, 11, 13, 20, and 26, the prior art of record, taken either alone or in combination, fails to disclose a method and device for performing measurements of residual stresses in an investigation area of an object, in combination with the rest of the limitations of the above claims.

Regarding claims 2, 11, 20, and 26, the prior art fails to disclose a method or device wherein the holographic camera and the investigation area being tested by the device and method, in combination with the rest of the elements and method steps in the corresponding claims, are set at a fixed distance relative to one another, usually as a result of rigidly fixed cables of a fixed length connecting the two elements.

Regarding claim 6, the prior art fails to disclose the construction of a probe head featuring a spacer portion, first and second rigidly connected probe optical connectors and an electric current supply electrode with a means for putting the electric current in contact with the investigation area of the object to generate stresses to be measured, along with there rest of the elements in the above claim and any corresponding dependent claim.

Regarding claim 13, the prior art fails to disclose the use of a probe object beam connector and a probe reflection beam connector to illuminate the investigation area and collect
